

REMEMBERING
Barbara Ann Blohm
July 27, 1962 - July 21, 2022

Barbara Ann Blohm made her lifelong home of Abbotsford a happier more beautiful place just by being in it and will be missed dearly by everybody who knew her. Born on the 27th of July 1962 she tended gardens and hearts making children her legacy. She was a mother who never stopped being a mother just because her son was grown. Like her own mother she put the highest value on family. She took care of her mother for years and when she lost her mother she did her best to fill those big shoes.

Barbara is survived by a large family of, brothers, sisters, nieces, nephews, cousins, in laws and her son. We lost her on July 21st almost a week before her sixtieth birthday and as much as we all feel we were robbed of an amazing matriarch there is a peace in knowing she's finally at rest and free of pain.
