Hello Nancy, I am so sad to see Gaspares name in the Obits today, Such a wonderful man and associate, God bless you, so sorry, Bill Calder

Tribute from Gillian Panton

Relation: Friends, neighbour.

Gaspare's joy in life was the foundation of the Joy of Music that enriched many others' lives. My family appreciated and admired the scope of Gaspare's interests and knowledge in and beyond music. With Nancy beside him, Gaspare gave generously of himself: music, and life, were richer and more memorable when shared. Forever grateful Gaspare, and Nancy. Panton Family.

Tribute from Andrew Friesen

Relation: Work relationship

Oh Nancy, I am very sorry to hear of Gaspare's passing. I remember well working for you and Gaspare with my dad, Terry. Gaspare seemed to have a permanent joy etched into his expression, and he was upbeat and kind. That picture you chose for this tribute page says it all. I pray that God would bring peace to your soul and cherished memories to your heart as you walk through this difficult time.

With love; Andrew F.

Tribute from Jeff Riedlinger

Relation: Former Music Student

Mr. Chiarelli was the first person to instill in me an appreciation for music, and he taught me the importance of developing a strong musical work ethic. His being such a wonderful role model and educator greatly influenced the course of my life. He was a wonderful man and I will always remember him.

Tribute from Don Thompson

Relation: Longtime friend

I met Gaspare more than three decades ago and, ironically, it was our mutual interest in computers that sparked our friendship. It was after that that I learned of his amazing skills and accomplishments as a musician. As an aspiring musician myself, I learned a lot from Gaspare. His unwavering support of my musical endeavours was a bright light in my life. I am so proud to have known Gaspare and called him my friend. We always had fun and shared a passion for music that will stay with me forever. His positive influence in my life is undeniable...I'll miss you, my friend!

Our thoughts and prayers are with you at this difficult time, Nancy. Much love, Don and Rosemary.
