Tribute from Lila J KOBI

Relation: He is my Cousin

Jim was a hero to me in many ways. When my Daughter was born I spent many a night and day walking the floor with her as she had trouble breathing. Jim and Gwen saw how beat I was and said to bring her to his office asap. He was my first introduction to Allergies. (which I had suffered with all my life but nobody talked about them before that. He helped me understand and I am grateful to this day. I moved to Ontario soon after but always remember his kindness. My Love and Prayers go out to Gwen, his Children and Grandchildren. I

My deepest condolences to you all. May God guide and comfort you all at this very difficult time. We were so glad to have had the opportunity to spend time with you Gwen, and Jim at Green Valley, several years ago, Lyle and Jim had so much fun. Cherish all your many wonderful memories and Jim will live in your hearts always.

Tribute from Anna Anderson Federgreen

Relation: He is my Uncle Jim.

So sorry to hear about Uncle Jim's passing. I have so many memories of him as a kind uncle who looked after me when I stayed with your family in 1968, baked Swedish bread at Christmas, and told funny stories. Uncle Jim's efforts made so many family gatherings possible, enjoyable and memorable. I think of the big Nelson reunion out at the acreage - what a great time that was - I still have a framed photo on my dresser from that special event! He loved his family and so enjoyed his grandchildren! I will always remember him helping us to pick out music for our wedding and singing a beautiful solo. We had many good talks when Gwen and Jim visited Don's family in Oakville. He appreciated beauty in music, in a meal shared with relatives and even the beauty of lighting candles for breakfast on dark winter mornings! He was gentle and tenderhearted towards our daughters, Rachel and Isabel as well as myself and those memories are very precious now. I want you to know that I will miss Jim. I have been thinking of your family and I have been praying for you often these last few days.

I really would like to be there with you all. I have looked into flights to Vancouver/Abbotsford and it is not possible for me to be there for the memorial service.

Rachel, Isabel and Clive send their condolences as well and we are praying for God to give you peace and comfort as you go through the upcoming weeks. May you feel surrounded by love.

With sympathy, prayers and love,
Anna (Nelson) Anderson Federgreen

Relation: Friends

Dear Gwen and family,

As you bid farewell to Jim, your husband, father and grandfather, we want to send our condolences.

We remember the many times we were able to share food, laughter and friendship with you and your family. Weddings, anniversaries, birthdays were just a few of the many times we shared with you. Our time with you in Spain will always be a cherished memory.

We are sorry we can not share this day with you in person. We pray that Gods loving arms will embrace you as you remember the past and plan for the future.

Much Love and Prayers

Bob and Marianne

May the words at Isaiah 25:8 be of comfort to the friends and family of James, where it says "He (God) will swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces."
