Tribute from David Renz

Relation: Friend

Lorne always made me feel comfortable and welcome whenever I was around him. I enjoyed our time together when we'd usually be talking about cars, the exploits of his son (my friend) Pat, the rest of our extended families, work, life, whatever. I was always impressed with his stoic attitude towards his significant challenges. It was clear to see how proud Lorne was of his children and grand kids. He loved them very much and always looked forward to visits and spending time with them. Lorne did his best to continue to live his life to it's fullest regardless of his condition which is something that I'll always admire him for. In fact, he inspired me regularly to walk with appreciation for the fact that I could, on his behalf, not complaining if it was raining and I'd get a little wet or taking the stairs instead of the elevator. I hope he somehow knows about that. I'll miss being able to have our talks like before but until we meet again, I'll continue them with his son and my best friend, Pat. Cheers to you Lorne until then.

My family's sincerest love and condolences to everyone who has been touched through Lorne's life and affected by his passing.
