Tribute from Barb Hull

Relation: Family friend

I had the privilege to work along side of Roy. We would always joke about it was not work, because we always had so much fun. Your laugh, your smile ,your love of hot rods and your stories about life in general will be missed. I will always remember your corny joke about Fly days. Marg says fly with the angels or as I like to think your racing in your ultimate hot rod.

Tribute from Ken Hansen

Relation: Worked together, became a regular customer.

I worked with Roy back when I was in high school at Vic's Esso in downtown Abbotsford. When Roy and Margaret took over Fraser Way Esso I'd make a point of driving to the other end of town to gas up and wash my car at their station.
Roy was one of the steady good guys and I'll always remember him with fondness and great respect. My deepest condolences to the family for the loss of a truly wonderful person.

Roy was an amazing guy, was quick to say Hello as you came in the door and always had a great smile to go along with it...he truly seemed to love his job and the customers he had throughout the years, it was always a pleasure to chat with him....it has been awhile since we have seen him , with retirement and all but he will always be remembered fondly...

Tribute from Sharon Dyck

Relation: Uncle

I remember visiting Uncle Roy and Aunt Marg at the Esso station. I must have been about 10 years old. Uncle Roy was watching the noon hour news on a TV in the back, and some politics came on, and I declared (without even knowing what it meant) that I was a Democrat. Uncle Roy, with an amused look on his face, said "Oh, NDP?" and I was like, "Um, yeah, sure." I had no clue what they were talking about on the TV. Uncle Roy just humoured me. He was just really patient and kind. We always had a lot of family gatherings, so I feel I grew up with him and all the aunts and uncles. Watching them play games and listening to them argue about politics and sports. A very important part of my childhood and youth. My condolences to Aunt Marg and Cousin David. Uncle Roy will be greatly missed.
